

Privacy Policy

Niha's Food Products values your privacy. Any information shared through WhatsApp, phone, or email will only be used for product inquiries, order processing, and customer communication. We do not sell, share, or distribute customer information to third parties. Customer details are kept secure and used only for business communication related to our products and services. If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Policy, please contact us through WhatsApp or email.